

CHAPERLEADS PITNEY'S FOR "JITNEY BUS"

Executive Committee of the Board of Directors Empowered to Confer With City Council Members.

REGULATIONS NEEDED,
SAYS ASA G. CANDLER

Majority of the Directors Go on Record as Opposing Any Drastic Rules Which Would Prohibit Operation.

The directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce went on record Monday afternoon as opposing any drastic regulations of jitney buses. They declared themselves as favoring such regulations as will protect not only the passengers and public, but will also protect the legitimate operators of the buses.

The directors adopted a resolution referring the whole matter to the executive committee of the city council with instructions that the city council be conferred with in regard to the passage of such laws as will regulate the jitney bus in a safe and conservative manner.

Asa G. Candler, president of the city council, said that the majority of the vehicles now being operated under the name of jitney bus were not in some sense a menace to the public and limb.

Think Regulations are Needed. "I think some regulation is urgently needed," said Mr. Candler, "and I trust this board will co-operate with the city council in the preparation of such laws as will protect the public."

The jitney bus business was then generally discussed. The sentiment was that the board was not in favor of a jitney bus, but simply wanted good and wholesome regulations so as to protect the public.

W. H. Hanson, a member of the automobile association and a number of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, said that he had heard of what had been said and he believed that any persons interested in the jitney bus should be allowed to see them operated in the city before conservative laws to regulate the business.

Some of the directors thought that the city ought to take a fair compensation by jitney buses for the use of the streets. Just what compensation should be given was not prepared to say until the whole matter had been more fully discussed.

"Laws Should be Conservative." "I would like to say to the board," said Mr. Hanson, "that the jitney bus now being operated in Atlanta under the name of jitney bus is a menace to the public. The jitney bus is a great and growing institution and will improve with time."

Instances of recklessness on the part of chauffeurs driving the so-called jitney bus in Atlanta were mentioned by some of the directors. They said that some of the drivers were not wearing road laws.

Young Men to Tell Cost of a Course In "Shakespeare"

Fifteen Prominent Citizens Will Be Subpoenaed Today as Witnesses in the Metropolitan Grand Opera Ticket Case.

Educational note: A class composed of fifteen of Atlanta's prominent citizens have been thoroughly taught a lesson.

The lesson in "Shakespeare" cost them in the neighborhood of $25. And now they are striving with might and main to menial and menial things, undoubtedly including profanity to turn the tables and teach "Shakespeare" a lesson.

Among the members of the class in "Shakespeare," according to a list furnished Attorney Harvey Hill, are the following: Milton Dargatz, Jr., Dowell Brown, Hinton Hinton, Jr., Werner, Philip Alston, W. P. Alston, Sam Dick, Hunter Perry, Douglas Landis, Stewart McGinnis, Clarence Ruse, J. H. Raine, George Collins, Clarence Knowles and W. R. Hoyt.

All Will Get Subpoenaed. They are the members of the "Shakespeare" celebrated grand opera. Tomorrow—or this afternoon—just as early as possible—they will be subpoenaed to testify in municipal court Thursday morning to the number of dollars they turned over to the Metropolitan Grand Opera for acquiring season seats to the Metropolitan performances.

But the "Shakespeare," as he is better known, is the link-by-link press agent (from which profession his title is derived), who conducted Atlanta's most prosperous ticket "speculation" as long as he stuck to the plain drama and vaudeville.

His business downfall came when he plunged into municipal opera. He was arrested on a warrant charging cheating and swindling, which will be heard in municipal court Thursday morning. The names of George Collins, Dowell Brown and Clarence Knowles were retained as counsel for the plaintiffs.

"Shakespeare" in a recent interview claimed that he bought his tickets from advance agents and advertising representatives of the various shows in return for his labors upon billboards and wide posters.

However he got them. "Shakespeare" said that if he had not been forced to get tickets for any performance at a certain rate, he would not have been in the business. He would buy them at the regular price and buy them at the regular price and buy them at the regular price.

As a result, his clients had confidence in him. He offered to furnish tickets to the board of directors. But he had to have the money in advance. He gave it to him forthwith—$100 or more.

And that was the last heard of Shakespeare. Until some day, some faithful "inner shiner" grew apprehensive that he had done something or other produce the seats or return the money.

It was then the wonderful discovery was made that Shakespeare had said that he had given the money to the "inner shiner" who was to turn it over to the board of directors. "He had turned it over to a person," who was to get the tickets.

The subsequent warrant was issued for the money. "The subsequent warrant was issued for the money. The subsequent warrant was issued for the money. The subsequent warrant was issued for the money."

During the afternoon three additional subscriptions of $100 each were secured and reported to the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, bringing the total to date up to $10,400, or a little less than half the entire amount of stock to be placed.

Notwithstanding a sanguine feeling that the campaign was being carried on, Mr. Allen expressed deep disappointment over the showing made by the committee. The trouble as he and others saw it was that the committee have not yet gotten down to work. He pointed out that it was well to realize that hard work is necessary.

Meet Again Today. The canvassing committee will meet again at 12:30 p. m. today at the chamber of commerce and were urged to make a better showing than yesterday. Boocock Treasurer of Astor Trust Company and Prominent in New York Society. No Motive Known for Murder and Suicide.

New York, March 22.—Howard Boocock, treasurer of the Astor Trust company, of New York, and prominent in New York society, shot and killed himself today. He was playing the piano for his entertainment in his home in East Seventy-fourth street. The banker then committed suicide.

According to the police, the banker left no word explaining the murder and suicide, nor could any member of the household throw any light on the fair. The servants declared the couple were on the most affectionate terms. The tragedy occurred shortly after dinner. The maid who served the meal told the police that Mr. Boocock seemed to be laboring under some excitement.

After dinner the two Boocock children, a boy 12 years old, and a girl 11, were sent to their rooms, while the parents went to the drawing room. The servants telephoned to a friend of Mrs. Boocock, Mrs. Henry P. Davis, wife of the banker, who is a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. Mrs. Davis went to the Boococks' home and found them murdered a physician. The doctor found Mr. Boocock dead and his wife breathing her last. Mr. Boocock was a Yale graduate of the class of 1906. Galli and Her Big Ballet Of World-Famous Dancers Will Be Feature of Opera Rosina Galli, one of the most famous of world dancers, will lead the ballet in three of the performances to be presented in Atlanta's grand opera program this season.

Madame Galli, with her corps of ballet dancers, is a feature of the most stirring scene of the "Huguenots," the premiere of this season. Her same corps of dancers will appear in the opera "Carmen," and with her wonderful assistants she will dance in "Rigoletto," thus appearing three times in one week, a program rarely presented by this famous woman.

Madame Galli was secured last year after great efforts on the part of the Metropolitan management, and by many is said to be not even second to Madame Pavlova. She combines in her wonderful interpretation of the art of dance all the dramatic charm of Pavlova, with all the salivette and witchery of the French woman. She fits and flies like a butterfly, and is as beautiful and graceful as the hummingbird.

Prized by Critics. The New York critics have accorded her the most enthusiastic praise, and her participation will demonstrate the high quality of the Metropolitan Opera company in reaching for the highest presentation of grand opera has the reputation of being the largest and the greatest of the world over, and the quality of her accomplishment greater than the program promises this year. The director found Mr. Boocock dead and his wife breathing her last.

On the tips of her toes she glided across the stage, and her dancing was so perfect that it was a wonder that she was not taken for a ghost. The audience was so captivated by her dancing that they forgot to breathe.

"DUTCH" STEAMERS AGAIN SEIZED. The "Dutch" steamers were seized by the German navy. The Dutch government has demanded the release of the steamers and the return of the cargo.

Weather Prophecy. The weather is expected to be clear and warm today. The temperature is expected to rise to 60 degrees.

Monday We Received 300 New Suits

*That, With What We Had, Set Our Ready-to-Wear Section
At the Very Height of Preparedness for the Easter Busy-ness*

Now, then, for the Easter suit!

At the time (the psychological moment, we might call it) when the greatest demands of the season will be made upon us to supply the women of Atlanta with suits of smart, correct styles, we can announce with all sincerity that we have brought the displays to their highest point.

It is all a part of the service that we strive to render—to secure styles that women want when they want them; let the effort be what it will. And this season it has required exceptional effort, it has not been easy to get the styles most desired.

But we have succeeded, and here are the suits that prove it.

The Belted Coats, the Severely Tailored Coats, the Wide Flaring Skirts and Pleated Skirts. Plenty of the Favored Navy Blues and English Checks

These are the general points—they differ, they are attractive in hundreds of individual ways, one woman will like the way the belt is tucked up under the arms, another will like the way the belt marks severely the waist line.

The greatness of the stocks is calculated to allow a woman that individuality of choice that she most likes, but does not always find.

Prices Go Gradually From $19.50 to $50. If Any Special Values
Were to Be Mentioned They Would Be Suits at $25 to $35,
For Misses, and for Women up to Size 46

New Coats

We have gathered unusually bountifully, perhaps because of the unusually attractive styles this year.

Sports coats—partitively named since they have come into such general usage—hold the forefront. These are in coverts in larger-than-regulation checks called Pagiacei checks. Some are belted very properly, some are Empire in style, most all have pockets.

They are lined or unlined, and the materials are light in weight, just heavy enough for the cool mornings and evenings of our early spring days. Practical, serviceable affairs.

Other coats are of the always good taffeta and faille silks in black and navy.

New Dresses

Afternoon and evening dresses have a freshness of line and fashioning this season that is most delightful, and they are developed in beautiful fabrics.

The afternoon dresses oftenest of pussy willow taffeta and crepe de chine show in one way or another little coat effects, and yoke skirts very wide.

Evening dresses often have little cup or bell sleeves, misty masses of chiffon for bodices, and skirts queerly like great tulips—and as colorful, too!

And the really smart styles for street wear. Full skirted, many in the jumper effect; they are developed in silks of new colorings—sands and blues being among the favored.

New Millinery

Many little hats fashioned after Paris ideas are ready today.

Wonderfully smart models are priced $10.00, $12.50 and $15.00.

A World of New Blouses

Surely the Attractive Diversity of Styles AND THE PRICES Will Make it Easy to Select Yours for Easter

We just got in a most beautiful quantity of new and different blouses—literally hundreds of them that must inspire a woman at once with the thought that here she will find just what she wants.

The display is about as broad as are the styles for spring; and the prices—you shall see that they are, in several instances, low beyond reason.

All the favored fabrics are represented—

Georgette Crepes, Crepe de Chines and Pussy Willow Taffetas Lead

And the color card shows the new grays, blues, the sand shades, flesh, maize and white. High-low collars are the favored; loops and pearl buttons; long sleeves.

Among the Most Notable Values Are Blouses
At $2.25, $3.45, $3.75, $5.75

At $2.25 A pussy willow (washable) blouse—with high-low collar, pearl buttons and loops, long sleeves—that is a bit more than the price would indicate. This in navy, sand, flesh and white.

At $3.45 A Georgette crepe waist that buttons high around the neck or turns back loosely, as you please; pearl buttons and loops. This in flesh and white. Another of pussy willow or crepe de chine has a tucked front—most attractive—in maize, flesh, peach and white. A lace and crepe de chine blouse at this price is smart—flesh and gold combined.

At $3.75 A small few of self-striped crepes de chine, in oyster white and flesh—with clear pearl buttons and loops down the front, the high and low collar and long sleeves. It is to be compared with waists selling at a considerably higher price.

At $5.75 Pussy willow and crepe de chine blouses of distinctive styles, plain shades and white with colored stripes. They are pleated so as to add to the effect of the stripes—and surely women must like the unusually large pearl buttons that are used.

And still we have told of but a mere handful of the styles—there are others and others—the finer lace and net blouses, copies of Paris models, priced at $10.00, $12.50 to $16.95.

CITY EXPENDITURES ARE CUT BY $11,250

Two Resolutions Are Held Up by Councilmen at the Mayor's Request.

Declaring that the finance committee had placed him on the anxious seat by contracting debts which they propose to carry for from anticipated revenue, Mayor Woodworth yesterday informed that body to strike out two measures which will mean a total saving of $11,250.

"This is going to be the worst year in the financial history of Atlanta," declared the mayor. "You go right ahead in the face of this and contract more debts. I made a visit to the tax office today and they tell me our revenue will probably not exceed that of 1914."

"You have $120,000 anticipated receipts, which it appears we are not going to get. We have depended on the marshal's office for a big portion of it, and it doesn't look encouraging from that source."

At the suggestion of the mayor, Councilman Edwin F. Johnson, chairman of the police committee, agreed to hold up until the fourth of the sixteen items he compiled, his resolution providing for putting twenty superintendents in the police department on regular duty at $20 per month. This will mean a saving of $4,000.

Councilman Johnson also agreed to withdraw his resolution calling for $1,750 for car fares for the sixteen city detectives. He announced that he would draw up another resolution providing for only $500 for this purpose.

FEWER ARRESTS IN 1915.

Judge Johnson's Policy Put End to Trivial Cases.

The number of arrests made by the police this year as compared with the same time last year shows a falling off of over three hundred.

Up to March 22, 1914, the total number of arrests was 2,207. This year the number of arrests up to Monday was 2,300.

One reason assigned for the falling off in the cases dropped by the police is the policy of Recorder Johnson to dismiss cases that he believes to be too trivial to deserve a fine. The police, it is said, have ascertained that unless there is some merit in a case there is to be no punishment, and this has caused them to be more careful about making arrests on reports made by irresponsible persons.

NEXT BIBLE CONFERENCE WILL BE A BIG AFFAIR

Plans are being formulated which will make the Bible conference at Atlanta during the spring of 1915 the greatest one held so far. The executive committee, composed of Drs. C. O. Flinn, J. A. Callaway, J. A. Eberhart and J. J. Egan, have addressed a letter to the friends of the Atlanta Bible conference, requesting them to keep the matter in mind.

This year, owing to the protracted illness of Dr. C. O. Flinn, the founder and president of this conference, and on account of the contributions for good offered by the Chapman-Alexander revival at the same time, the executive committee considered it wise to devote the entire conference to the efforts of the revival.

RUSSELL ATTACKED AS AGENT CHURCH

Dr. Chapman Quotes Statements of Pastor Russell, Showing Views Contrary to Evangelical Christianity

By J. Walter McCraw.

Declaring that Pastor Russell, the Brooklyn religious leader who spoke at the Atlanta theater Sunday afternoon, holds views diametrically opposed to evangelical Christianity, Dr. W. B. Chapman delivered a scathing attack at the Monday night meeting in the tabernacle.

Dr. Chapman cited quotation after quotation from the addresses and sermons of Pastor Russell to substantiate his charge that the views of the returned missionary are contrary to the Bible and to the belief of all evangelical churches.

The evangelist's attack on Pastor Russell came in a short statement preceding his regular sermon.

Says Christ Came in 1874.

Among the most remarkable statements which Dr. Chapman said Pastor Russell had promulgated was the declaration that Christ had returned to the world in 1874 as an invisible spirit being.

Dr. Chapman pronounced this as "folly," and said, "Your mothers would have known of it if Christ had returned to the world in 1874."

He also said that Pastor Russell had made statements that "the millennium will begin in 1914," and that the year approached, he had changed this and said, "may begin in 1915."

Calling his remarks "theology of the future," Dr. Chapman said that Pastor Russell and the music program of the evening, Dr. Chapman said, "are a strong argument on 'The Second Coming of Christ.'"

His Lucker Chokes.

At the height of his description of the suddenness and the glory of Christ's coming, Dr. Chapman said:

"I'd be ashamed to have him come and find me tied up with a lucker 'chuk.'"

Dr. Chapman's sermon on "The Second Coming" was as follows:

Taking as his text, "And not be ashamed before Him at His coming," Dr. Chapman said:

"When St. Paul wrote his epistle to the Romans, he spoke of the 'glorious appearing of the Son of Man,' and he said that 'all men shall be made subject unto him.'"

"The second coming of Christ is the most important event in the history of the world. It is the event which we should all be waiting for. It is the event which will bring about the final judgment of all men."

"The Bible is very explicit. It tells us that 'the Son of Man shall come in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory, and he shall send the angels to gather together his elect.'"

Sermons in Song Playing Big Part in the Success of Tabernacle Meetings

By W. Wood Ford.

There were few vacant seats in the tabernacle on Tuesday night when the evangelists entered the building, and those were soon filled.

Not the least popular phase of the work in a campaign that is being conducted with attractive features, is the half-hour song service, under the leadership of Mr. Alexander, which precedes each meeting.

In a striking degree was this happy feature of gospel song noticeable in last night's meeting. Under the musical sway of the song leader, some people left their habitual reserve, and some their marks of indifference.

DEAD VALOREM TAX AGAINST GEORGIA RAILROADS

U. S. Supreme Court Rules Against Georgia in Two Noted Cases.

Washington, March 22.—The supreme court decided today that the state of Georgia could not require leasing railroads to pay an ad valorem tax on property leased from other railroads and exempt from taxation.

The state sought to require the Central of Georgia to pay an ad valorem tax on the property of the Augusta and Savannah and portions of the Southwestern which were exempted from taxation in the original charters of these two roads.

A similar decision was announced in another case affecting a tax imposed on the Louisville and Nashville and Atlantic Coast Line as to the leased property of the Georgia Railroad and Banking company.

Judge John C. Hart, state tax assessor, who represented the state of Georgia, argued the case for the state. He contended that the state was entitled to the tax because the leased property was not exempted from taxation in the original charters of these two roads.

Judge John C. Hart, state tax assessor, who represented the state of Georgia, argued the case for the state. He contended that the state was entitled to the tax because the leased property was not exempted from taxation in the original charters of these two roads.

Larger credit for merchants and manufac

It is customary for bankers to limit your line of credit to his impression of your financial worth.

Verbal statements must, by the rules of good, safe banking be discounted.

The line of credit is discounted proportionately.

With a certified statement by a qualified Certified Public A countant in hand, the borrower can generally procure a large "line" than he can on his "word."
